Volunteers to carry out third Alzheimer's Alliance tractor drive

By Siara Schwartzlow
EDITOR

Brodhead's Fritz Wenger, along with a large group of volunteers, is planning the third annual Tractor Drive benefitting the Alzheimer's and Dementia Alliance of Wisconsin. The event is scheduled for Sunday, September 25.

Wenger established the annual event after seeing first-hand the effects of Alzheimer's and Dementia in his wife's family. "It's hard to believe this disease touches so many families, and you don't even know," he said. "My wife and her family have been touched pretty hard with it."

Wenger stressed that this event is not aimed solely at curing Alzheimer's, but is a way to spread awareness and encourage those affected to talk to one another. "That's a comfort," he said. "If you're educated and made aware, you can help."

"There's help out there," Robert Schwartzlow, volunteer, added. "Talking is the most important thing."

Wenger knew he wanted to raise awareness of the disease but did not want to take the traditional route of a 5K or Fun Run. "There's so many people who would like to participate but can't do a walk," he said. The tractor drive allows for the entire family to participate. "Last year," Wenger said, "our youngest rider was two weeks old, and our oldest was ninety-two. The whole family can be involved."

Ruth Ann Day, who also helps with the event, added that this event is not solely for patients, but it will also serve a stress-relieving, fun event for the loved ones of Alzheimer's and Dementia patients. "It's so hard on the caretakers, too," she said.

Wenger is expecting a large number of tractors to participate this year. Over thirty businesses and individuals chose to sponsor the event, and in return, were given two tickets each, thereby guaranteeing at least 60 participants. Wenger and the planning committee are expecting 80 or more.

The ride will begin at 10 a.m. at the Spring Grove Township Hall in Brodhead and will move to Albany with several stops along the way.

From the township hall, the ride will head toward Wood's Crossing and later to the Kelch Aviation Museum, where airplanes will be on display for riders to see. The ride will then move through a scenic route toward Albany. Lunch will be provided at the Albany American Legion Post by way of free-will donations. Riders should expect to complete the thirty-mile route and return to Brodhead around 3 p.m.

The cost to participate is $20 per tractor. Those under ten years old may participate for $5. Wagons are available at a cost of $15 per rider for anyone wishing to ride along.

Please note that all drivers must hold a valid driver's license or tractor safety certificate. All participants must sign a liability waiver, and no riders will be allowed on tractors. All tractors must display a slow-moving vehicle sign.

Anyone interested in volunteering or anyone with questions should contact Wenger at 608-214-4371 or Roger Timpe at 608-604-4648.

Fritz Wenger, left, takes advantage of Brodhead's Covered Bridge Days festival to spread the word about Alzheimer's and Dementia and the upcoming tractor drive. Joining him are Derek Schwartzlow, Luke Schwartzlow, and Robert Schwartzlow.

Friends of Pecatonica River to meet tomorrow

The Friends of the Pecatonica River Foundation will be meeting tomorrow, Thursday, August 18, at 7 p.m. at The Rafter's Restaurant & Catering in Lena, Illinois. The public is invited.

The meeting will be held in the 'Cafe' Dining Room with our great leader and president, Joe Ginger, presiding.

The Friends of the Pecatonica River Foundation is an Illinois not-for-profit organization that is dedicated to improving all 58 miles of your Pecatonica River experience. This includes access, education, wildlife habitat, log jam extrication, and river clean-up for the human communities in Stephenson County.

The foundation will be discussing the following: aggregate placement, electrical finalization, canoe and kayak launch options at Atten's Landing, membership renewal, future landings, the Eagle Scout garbage can project, and work at McConnell's "Bobtown"

Landing and the beautiful Hancock Marina. We will also be discussing the results of the Illinois Paddling Council sanctioned canoe and kayak races, plus free canoe and kayak trips.

The all-new Second Edition of the Pecatonica River post card book is available at The Red Barn & Natural Healing Express in Lena for $12.00, and we will have them at our meeting. This is another collector book created through the talents of Joe Ginger. He will provide autographs, which will only be available at our meeting.

The fun and fishing is great on your 10,000-year-old river, and the wildlife viewing is even better. Our organization is a fun, hands-on group that is making great things happen. We encourage you to attend our meeting and consider becoming a member. The membership fee is reasonable, and the rewards are many. Everyone is welcomed. Come enjoy your summer fun with us!

Brodhead Community Garden reminders

What a blessing this year has been! With a steady diet of rain, the gardens are producing abundant crops. The weeds are enjoying the rain, as well.

Just a couple of reminders as we begin to move to the end of the growing season: the compost pile has been moved to the northeast corner of the garden closest to County Road T (plot #16). The compost sign has been relocated to identify where to put any and all plant material such as overripe crops, weeds, or vines. Please do not place garbage or stakes, metal, or any wood items in the compost pile.

As you complete your harvesting, please remove any hard items such as poles, stakes, fencing, and row markers from your plot.

Please remember to turn off the water at its source at the south end of the building and on the light post near the garden center.

Extra produce can be taken to the Clothes Closet on Saturday morning for distribution.

We will be closing the gardens in late October or after the first killing frost so that we can cut down the remaining plants and prepare for next year.

Enjoy eating and sharing the fruits of your labors over the rest of the summer!

Monroe Clinic Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Thompson, shares a discussion with resident, Brittany Blomberg, DO, Friday in Monroe.

Monroe Clinic named in '100 Great Community Hospitals'

Rankings part of nationwide conversation

Becker's Hospital Review recently named Monroe Clinic among its "100 Great Community Hospitals." "This list recognizes the important role community hospitals serve in our nation's healthcare landscape," said Mark Thompson, MD, Chief Medical Officer at Monroe Clinic. "It's compiled through Becker's editorial team's extensive research and review process. Our hospital's inclusion on the list recognizes the collective dedication to healthcare excellence demonstrated by each of our team members and leadership."

Hospitals considered for this list have 550 or fewer beds and are located in both suburban and rural areas across the nation. The editorial team works through a master list of facilities selected based on original research or national rankings from such organizations as iVantage Health Analytics, Truven Health Analytics, Healthgrades, and CareChex to determine if the hospital is making continual strides to provide quality care.

While there is no perfect measure of healthcare quality, Thompson explained how the data and research behind "100 Great Community Hospitals," as well as other rankings and recognitions, are part of an important conversation throughout the industry.

"More than a pat on the back, it can lead to information sharing and higher quality care for all patients," he said. "As for Monroe Clinic, it also offers encouragement to keep moving forward, keep improving, and keep listening to the communities we serve."

Monroe Clinic Hospital was also named one of the Top 100 Rural and Community Hospitals in the nation by iVantage and received the Outstanding Patient Experience Award from Healthgrades this year.

Become a Foster Grandparent Program volunteer

Where will you find a Foster Grandparent volunteer? You'll find a one helping children in local schools, not-for-profit childcare centers, and family-related programs through the Foster Grandparent Program (FGP). You'll find FGP volunteers reading to children, listening to children read, helping with homework, reinforcing lessons, helping children to develop skills, and providing encouragement.

Volunteers spend between fifteen and forty hours a week during the school year helping children under the supervision of a teacher.

When you volunteer, you're not just helping others; you are helping yourself by staying active and engaged in your communities. Studies have found that volunteering helps individuals live healthier lives and leads to new friendships and discoveries.

FGP volunteers are 55 years old or older, having limited income, and meet FGP guidelines, including passing a background check. Qualified volunteers receive a modest, tax-free, hourly stipend, which does not affect income-sensitive programs such as SSI or housing. The stipend allows eligible people to serve as volunteers without costs to themselves. Other benefits include paid pre-service training and continued monthly training, paid holidays and leave, and travel and meal allowances. The best benefit, though, is helping children.

The FGP, now in its fifty-first year, is a program of Senior Corps, a national service program funded by the Corporation for National and Community Service. Its mission is to strengthen communities, improve lives, and foster civic engagement through service and volunteering. The FGP is sponsored by the Southwestern Wisconsin Community Action Program.

Those interested in volunteering should visit www.swcap.org or www.nationalservice.gov for more information. Interested parties may also contact the Southwestern Wisconsin Community Action Program at 1-800-704-8555, ext. 209, or c.deckert@swcap.org.

Golf Outing
The grass is green and the sun is shining, so it's time for Bridget's Annual Golf Outing! This year, we want to shake things up a bit, so we'll have cool prizes, different rules, a different course, and one great day.

Everyone will play their own game (not a scramble or best ball). We will play Yellow Ball.

Each group will get one yellow ball. The yellow ball rotates among team members, changing after each hole. The groups that finish without losing the Yellow Ball will go into a drawing for a prize.

Top two lowest scores will win a prize. There will also be hole prizes for the longest drive, the closest shot to the pin, and the longest putt.

If you do not have a partner or foursome, you will be matched up with a group.

This event is scheduled for Tuesday, August 23, beginning at 9 a.m. at the Bass Creek Golf Course in Footville. Enjoy lunch and beverages in the club house after the event.

The cost is $17 for those 62 and older, and $20 for those under 62. This fee, to be paid at the golf course, includes nine holes of golf with a cart.

Transportation, lunch, and wine tasting is on your own.

A walk-up tent will also be available on the west side for your convenience. With your brat purchase, you'll help the Behring Senior Center subsidize classes, educational programs, special events, and entertainment for area seniors. Volunteers are still needed as well as pop and water donations.

Car show coming to Rock County Fairgrounds this weekend

By Siara Schwartzlow
EDITOR

The Wisconsin Car Enthusiasts Club, WCEC, is hosting its South Wisconsin Car Show at the Rock County Fairgrounds on Sunday, August 21 from 2 p.m. to 6. This is the club's first show in Janesville.

"We have shows all over Wisconsin, and we're finally bringing our shows south," said Brandon Pinnon, WCEC representative.

Those interested in participating can register on the day of the event. The cost to participate in the show is $20 per car.

Please note that cars participating in the show must meet the club's "car show standards." Show cars cannot have unintentional rust or poor paint application. Additionally, stock vehicles without major modifications are not permitted.

Spectators will receive free admission to the show. "In this club, we try to bring together everyone who loves the same things: cars," Pinnon said. "I want the surrounding communities to come together and have a wonderful time."

Spectators should expect to see up to 400 vehicles on display. In addition, the show will include food and merchandise vendors, a DJ, and a car limbo.

The WCEC is the largest car club in Wisconsin with over 17,000 members. Anyone interested in joining should visit www.theofficialwcec.com.

Orfordville to host community strength training program

On Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 p.m. until 5 p.m., and again from 6 p.m. until 7 p.m., the UW-Extension of Rock County will be offering the Strong Women Program, an exercise program for middle-aged and older adults.

Classes will begin Tuesday, September 6. All instructors have been trained in the Strong Women program and have had personal successes participating in and leading strength training. Each class includes progressive weight training, flexibility focus, and balance activities. The program is appropriate for both sedentary and active women.

Strong Women classes are also being offered in Janesville, Beloit, Clinton, Milton, and Evansville. Angela Flickinger, UW-Extension Family Living Educator and Strong Women Ambassador of Wisconsin, is coordinating these county-wide programs.

The Strong Women Program was developed by Miriam Nelson, Ph.D., an associate professor at the Gerald J. and Dorothy R. Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy at Tufts University. The program is based on years of research on how strength training and proper nutrition improves the health of women of all ages. "Strength is a critical factor in living healthier, more active lives," Nelson said. "Our research shows that a program of strength training not only improves bone density but reduces falls, improves arthritis symptoms, and increases flexibility and strength."

Over 500 individuals in Rock County have participated in the Strong Women program. Results indicated that these participants gained physical strength, flexibility, balance, and knowledge of nutrition and health. These women have also indicated that they have benefited socially from meeting and getting to know new people.

The cost for the UW-Extension's Strong Women program is $30 ($35 for new attendees). Men can also participate. Scholarships are available.

If you are interested in participating in the Strong Women Program, please contact UW-Extension for the paperwork and equipment required.

Rock County Health Department urges individuals to be vaccinated against shingles

The Rock County Public Health Department is encouraging adults ages 50 and over to get the shingles vaccination. The shingles vaccine is recommended by the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP).

Shingles is a disease that causes a painful, localized skin rash often with blisters. It is caused by the varicella zoster virus.

Anyone who has had chickenpox may develop shingles. After a person recovers from chickenpox, the virus stays dormant (inactive) in the body. For reasons that are not fully known, the virus can reactivate years later, causing shingles. Almost 1 out of every 3 people in the United States will develop shingles. The risk increases as you get older. About half of all cases occur in men and women 60 years old or older.

For more information, to set up an appointment, or to talk to a nurse about the cost of the vaccine and whether the shingles vaccine is right for you, contact the Rock County Public Health Department at 608-757-5440. Medicare Part D accepted.

New Horizons 4-H shares latest activities

By Royce Brauer
NEW HORIZONS 4-H MEMBER

Members of New Horizons 4-H have been involved in many activities and events over the summer. Some adult leaders and older youth went to county meetings. Our club stapled the July/August Alphorn. We painted a sign promoting the county fair, which brought heat, work, more heat, storms, and some fun.

Justin Moore helps around the house and does chores. He submitted a fair entry, and he went to junior leader meetings. He attended Adventure Camp near Wisconsin Dells for three days, and he helped paint the fair sign and staple the Alphorn. At the fair, his projects were judged. He worked at the dairy bar and did the club tour.

Jaena LeGault does chores at home and helps with the housework. She took her dog Bandit to obedience classes this summer to prepare for the fair. She submitted a fair entry and attended several graduation parties. She helped paint the fair sign, too. At the fair, Jaena had other projects judged. She helped the pony lady and promoted 4-H at the ambassador booth.

Shannon Day kept busy helping her mom at home and taking the dog for walks. She turned in a fair entry for Cloverbuds. She went to a friend's graduation party. At a workshop, she planted flowers. She also helped staple the Alphorn. Her projects were judged the day she took them to the fair. Shannon went to work days to get help with her record book. She likes to play with friends and have sleep overs.

Royce Brauer led pledges at the adult leaders' meetings. He went to his brother's graduation ceremony and party. He attended an orientation for State 4-H and a youth conference so he could go to the event later in June. He spent three days at Adventure Camp near Wisconsin Dells. His help with younger members at a Cloverbud Exploring Workshop was appreciated. Royce enjoys spending time with his "Big Sister," Veronica. He attended junior leader meetings and did pre-fair judging. At the fair, his other projects were judged, he worked the dairy bar, helped at the ambassador booth, handed out water at the pedal tractor pull, and more. He took pictures at the 4-H Recognition Ceremony. He went to county record book work days to begin working on the new record book.

Maylee Brauer attended her brother's graduation ceremony and party. She went to 4-H camp for three days and met new friends. She helped the Cloverbuds and exploring members plant flowers at a workshop. She helped paint the fair sign and put it up. Maylee attended a family reunion, too. She received ribbons at pre-fair judging for knitting and child development. At the fair, her other projects were judged. She helped at the ambassador booth, went on the club tour and walked the exhibit hall floor. She went to the 4-H Recognition Ceremony, where her brother received awards. She also went to county record book work days.

Jaydon Brauer turned in a fair entry. He went to his brother's graduation ceremony and party. He planted flowers at a Cloverbud exploring workshop. He helped paint the fair sign and put it up. His Cloverbud projects were judged the day he took his projects to the fair. At the fair, he did the club tour, told about his projects, and walked the floor.

Connor Brauer led pledges at the adult leaders' meeting. He submitted a fair entry and began working at Colony Brands. He graduated from high school and had a graduation party. He was a counselor for 4-H camp and helped younger members plant flowers at a workshop. He painted on the fair sign and helped put it up. His child development project was judged before the fair. At the fair, Connor had other projects judged and worked as a junior superintendent. He helped people at the fair in many ways. He worked at the dairy bar and helped at the 4-H ambassador booth. At the 4-H Recognition Ceremony, he received the key award and a 4-H scholarship.

Roxane Ace spends time with her "Big Sister," walking the dog and doing other activities. She turned in a fair entry. She went to a friend's graduation ceremony and party. She helped paint the fair sign and staple the Alphorn. Her projects were judged when she brought them to the fair. At the fair, she went on the club tour and walked the floor. She went to work days to get help with her record book. Chance Ace turned in a fair entry. He went to the Breakfast on the Farm, too. He had fun at a friend's graduation ceremony and party. He planted flowers at a workshop. He took projects to the fair and got them judged. He talked about his projects on the club tour, and he went to work days to do his record book.

Anyone can join 4-H anytime, but the new year starts September 1. Think about joining now!

For more information about joining New Horizons 4-H, call Paul at 934-5377.

Brodhead-Juda football ready to take to the field

By Derek Hoesly
CORRESPONDENT

The Cardinals' football program will have a familiar face roaming the sidelines in 2016 as Jim Matthys returns as the Brodhead-Juda head coach.

"I'm very excited to get back on the sideline," Matthys said. "I was involved a little the last few years, but I'm excited to be back with the kids and coaches in a full-time capacity."

Matthys coached the Cardinals from 2005 to 2013. He led the team to a State Runner-Up title in 2010. Matthys was also an assistant for nine years before taking the reins in 2005. During that stretch, the Cardinals were crowned State Runner-Up in 2004. Matthys had an impressive record of 69-26 from 2005 to 2013.

Brodhead-Juda went 4-6 overall and 4-2 in Rock Valley conference play last year. The Cardinals won their second-straight conference title.

The Cardinals return the nucleus of their offensive line from a year ago. Brodhead-Juda returns three starters, including tackle Jared Hansen, center Trent Davis, and guard Nathan Lawrence. Brodhead-Juda will have a brand-new backfield in 2016. The Cardinals will be without their top two rushers from last season: fullback Dylan Kubly and halfback Jake Pickel. Brodhead-Juda also will be without their top outside threat as receiver Ned Slocum has moved on to UW-Madison.

Quarterback Matt Schmitt returns to lead the Cardinals' offense. In his first season as a starter, Schmitt threw for 1226 yards and 19 touchdowns. Schmitt is one of eight returning starters on offense.

The cupboard isn't completely empty as fullback Jack Speckman returns with some experience and will be relied on heavily in 2016. Tight end Skylar Stuckey returns after catching six passes a year ago. Brodhead-Juda will rely on the trio of Brekan Day, Parker Johnson, and Tyler Hoesly to make plays on the outside and be consistent threats for the Cardinals.

The area the Cardinals will have to make significant strides in is on the defensive side. Brodhead-Juda gave up a lot of yards on the ground last season. If the Cardinals want to avoid the late-season struggles from a year ago, the run defense will have to be more consistent.

Some of the key returning players are Hanson, Tyler Davis, Joe Stout, Lawrence, and Speckman. Hanson will anchor the defensive line for the Cardinals. He was First Team All-Conference a year ago with 34 tackles and three sacks. Brodhead-Juda returns three starters in the secondary, including Johnson, Day, and Bryson IIs. IIs had 32 tackles in 2015.

Some of the top contenders in the Rock Valley include Evansville, Clinton, and Beloit Turner. Evansville heads into the season as the conference favorite.

The Cardinals don't plan on ending their playoff streak. Matthys believes this year's team can be in the hunt for a third-straight conference crown.

A trio of sophomores has the potential to make a big impact for the Cardinals in 2016. The trio includes Jeff Williams, Seth Allen, and Theo Policastro.

The Cardinals open the 2016 season on Friday, August 19 at Big Foot with kickoff scheduled for 7 p.m.

NEW TEST FOR COLON CANCER

A new stool DNA test (Cologuard) has been approved by the FDA. In a recent study, researchers compared the new stool DNA test with the current FIT (fecal immunochemical test) stool test. Both tests look for hidden bleeding in the stool, but the DNA test also looks for genetic changes linked to colon cancer. The new test detected 92% of the earliest and most curable cases compared to FIT, which detected 74%; however, it has a higher false positive rate, 13% versus FIT's 5%. Abnormal results on the DNA tests would then be confirmed by a colonoscopy. Cologuard's cost is also higher than FIT.

IRS warns of surge in automated scam calls

The Internal Revenue Service recently warned taxpayers to stay vigilant against an increase of IRS impersonation scams in the form of automated calls and new tactics from scammers demanding tax payments on iTunes and other gift cards.

The IRS has seen an increase in "robo-calls" where scammers leave urgent callback requests through the phone telling taxpayers to call back to settle their "tax bill." These fake calls generally claim to be the last warning before legal action is taken. Once the victim calls back, the scammers may threaten to arrest, deport, or revoke the driver's license of the victim if he or she does not agree to pay.

"It used to be that most of these bogus calls would come from a live-person. Scammers are evolving and using more and more automated calls in an effort to reach the largest number of victims possible," said IRS Commissioner John Koskinen. "Taxpayers should remain alert for this summer surge of phone scams, and watch for clear warning signs as these scammers change tactics."

In the latest trend, IRS impersonators are demanding payments on iTunes and other gift cards. The IRS reminds taxpayers that any request to settle a tax bill by putting money on any form of gift card is a clear indication of a scam.

Some examples of the varied tactics seen this year are: demanding payment for a "Federal Student Tax"; demanding immediate tax payment for taxes owed on an iTunes or other type of gift card; soliciting W-2 information from payroll and human resources professionals; "verifying" tax return information over the phone; and pretending to be from the tax preparation industry.

Since these bogus calls can take many forms and scammers are constantly changing their strategies, knowing the telltale signs is the best way to avoid becoming a victim.

The IRS will never: call to demand immediate payment over the phone, nor will the agency call about taxes owed without first having mailed you a bill; threaten to immediately bring in local police or other law-enforcement groups to have you arrested for not paying; demand that you pay taxes without giving you the opportunity to question or appeal the amount they say you owe; require you to use a specific payment method for your taxes, such as a prepaid debit card, gift card or wire transfer; or ask for credit or debit card numbers over the phone.

If you get a phone call from someone claiming to be from the IRS and asking for money and you don't owe taxes, do not give out any information. Hang up immediately. Contact TIGTA to report the call. Use their "IRS Impersonation Scam Reporting" web page or call 800-366-4484. Report it to the Federal Trade Commission, too. Use the "FTC Complaint Assistant" on FTC.gov. Please add "IRS Telephone Scam" in the notes.

If you think you might owe taxes, call the IRS directly at 800-829-1040.

Pastor's Corner

Steps toward healing and unity

BY REV. ANDY TWITON

Next year, 2017, will mark the 500th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation, which led to a division within the Christian family. In the centuries that followed, theological disagreement would even lead to conflict and bloodshed. In the Thirty Years War, for example, it's estimated that eight million people, both Lutheran and Catholic, died in Europe between 1618 and 1648. While the violence has lessened, the division has remained.

For the last 50 years, however, Lutherans and Catholics have been in dialogue toward seeking understanding and finding common ground. Following the Second Vatican Council in the 1960s, representatives from the Lutheran World Federation (LWF) and the Roman Catholic Church began meeting to look into what separated and united the two churches. Leaders and theologians from both sides gathered to discuss the Gospel, Holy Communion, the nature of the Church, and other topics.

A breakthrough happened in 1999 when the LWF and the Catholic Church released a Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification. Justification is the way Christians talk about how sinners are made right with God. The idea that Christians are justified before God by faith alone apart from works of the law was at the heart of Martin Luther's Reformation. To put it another way, Luther believed we do not earn justification by what we do; God's makes us right by grace alone, as a pure gift. For Catholics and Lutherans to find areas of agreement over this central issue was a major step forward.

Last week, another step was taken when the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) voted overwhelmingly at its Church-wide Assembly in New Orleans to accept a new statement put together by Lutherans and Catholics called "Declaration on the Way." This document outlines 32 statements of agreement where Catholics and Lutherans do not have church-dividing differences. For example, the Declaration states, "Lutherans and Catholics agree that the church on earth arose from the whole event of Jesus Christ, who remains its sole foundation" (1 Corinthians 3:11). In many areas of ministry and mission, the dialogue between Lutheran and Catholics have found places of unity, even as they admit there are still differences.

After last week's vote, the ELCA's Presiding Bishop Elizabeth Eaton said, "Dear sisters and brothers, let us pause to honor this historic moment. Though we have not yet arrived, we have claimed that we are, in fact, on the way to unity... This 'Declaration on the Way' helps us to realize more fully our unity in Christ with our Catholic partners, but it also serves to embolden our commitment to unity with all Christians." (Rev. Peder Johanson from Bethlehem Lutheran in Brodhead was at the Assembly, so he will have an even better take on this.)

I do not want to downplay the remaining differences between Lutherans and Catholics, but I am hopeful that efforts toward unity and mutual respect will strengthen the body of Christ on earth. Furthermore, I believe we are doing God's will when we seek unity with our brothers and sisters in Christ. In John 17, Jesus prays for his disciples before his crucifixion: "I want all of them to be one with each other, just as I am one with you and you are one with me. I also want them to be one with us. Then the people of this world will believe that you sent me" (John 17:21 CEV). Jesus's final prayer for his followers was that they would be one and not divided. He believed this unity would be a witness to the world of God's love. Jesus's prayer for his disciples is also for us: that we would one day be one.

One way we can help each other get through these challenging times is to keep our dollars local. Here are three good reasons.

Reason #1: Shopping locally saves you gas and wear and tear on your vehicle.

Reason #2: When you spend your money locally, you support the businesses whose property taxes pay for our municipal services.

Reason #3: Many of our youth programs are supported and sponsored by local businesses and if we don't support them, they can't support our kids.
