Panthers are regional champions

By Derek Hoesly CORRESPONDENT

A delayed start and a brief power outage couldn't stop the Panthers from claiming their third straight regional title last Friday. The one-seed Panthers (23-2 overall, 14-1 Six Rivers) beat four-seed Racine Lutheran 10-0 in five innings in a WIAA Division 4 regional final.

"I'm proud of the girls, and it just shows the hard work that they put in and dedication to the program and dedication by the families," coach Bill Davis said. "We had probably 10 to 12 people here working on the field to get this game off, and that just shows the love this community has for softball."

For a second straight playoff contest, Juda-Albany came out red-hot, scoring six runs that all came with two outs in the bottom of the first. Jordan blooped a base hit into centerfield, and McDermott hit a single into shallow centerfield. Junior Nicki Becker drilled a clutch single right back up the middle to plate Jordan. Junior Hailey Kammerer had a lengthy at-bat that resulted in a walk to load the bases. Junior Sammi Detra then lined a shot into right center to plate two runs to extend the lead to 3-0. Junior Haley Freitag laced an opposite-field RBI single into right field. kins went up and snagged a line drive After a double steal, Adkins delivered a two-run single into left field just over the glove of the leaping shortstop to balloon the lead to 6-0.

"I told the girls we have to defend this house, and they really bought into that. They came out with a good approach up at the plate and got five, six hits in a row," Davis said. "Riley's really been coming around this year. Riley's a girl I had for the last three years, but this year, she's really putting it together. I'm so happy for her. She was a .260 hitter or .250 hitter last year, and she's hitting .375 this year," Davis

"Everybody was on top of their game in the first inning. We were ready to go. We got a lot of runs in and shut Racine Lutheran down right away," Adkins said.

The Panthers tacked on a run in the top of the second. Burkhalter legged out an infield single and advanced 60 feet on a perfectly executed sacrifice bunt by Jordan. Becker torched the Crusaders again with another RBI base hit into centerfield.

Panthers' starter Becker was dialed in from the first pitch as she struck out five in the first two frames. Becker also got some help from her defense as Adin the third.

The Panthers' hit parade continued in the bottom of the third. Freitag drilled a triple into right field. Leadoff hitter Goecks did damage as she got on top of a high Lydia Balke offering and hooked it into the right field corner for an RBI triple.

Juda-Albany extended their lead to 9-0 on a passed ball in the bottom of the fourth. Juda-Albany sealed the regional title one inning later. Detra tattooed a ringing double off the centerfield fence to open the frame. Adkins legged out a slow roller to the shortstop to put runners on the corners with one out. Goecks then set off the celebration as she smoked the game-ending RBI base hit to deep left field.

Becker earned the win, going five dominant frames and surrendering one hit, one walk, and zero earned runs while recording 10 strikeouts.

"Nicki was hitting her inside spots and getting ahead of the hitters today. She's got so many different pitches that she can throw at you, which keeps them guessing up there," Davis said.

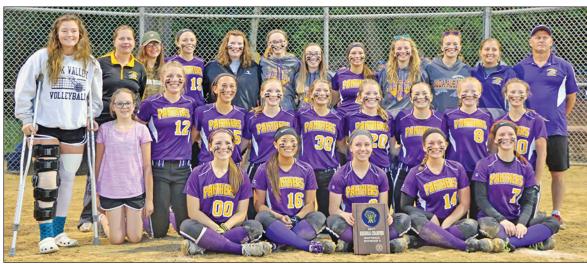

'Nicki's an amazing pitcher, and she helps our team so much. She's a huge reason why we've made it three years in a row. She's really a big part of our team," Adkins said.

Becker led the Panthers' offense, going 2-for-3 with two RBIs. Adkins also went 2-for-3 with two RBIs. Freitag went 2-for-3 with two runs scored and one RBI. Detra went 2-for-3 with two RBIs. Juda-Albany banged out 13 hits in the contest.

"Bill has done a wonderful job coaching all the girls. I think the whole lineup can hit. I don't think we have one weak link," McDermott said. "We're a team to be scared of because we can hit really well because of him."

"I say we go to the 1-0 mentality when it comes to tournament play. Coach Davis always stresses 1-0," Mc-Dermott said. "We need to leave it all on the field. I think all the girls put their whole hearts and skills into it because we know we're good."

LSRWA launches the next leg of the 'Sugar River Corps of Recovery' expedition Explorers wanted!

Join ecologists, nature lovers, canoeists, and kavakers on Saturday, June 17, as they paddle and explore an eight-mile section of the Sugar River from Attica to Albany. This family-friendly expedition continues the journey members of Lower Sugar River Watershed Association initiated in 2015. Their goal is to paddle the entire length of the navigable channel of the Sugar River from its headwaters to its confluence with the Pecatonica River at Shirland, Ill., periodically mapping, photo-documenting, and gathering data about the flora and fauna and general condition and health of the stream channel and riparian corridor. This expedition provides an opportunity to observe and learn about the birds, plants, fish, and invertebrates that populate the habitats of the river corridor, as well as understand how the stream channel and riparian settings vary along the way. More importantly, this trip is simply a great way to enjoy being outdoors on the river with friends and family. Beginner to moderate paddling skills are recommended to navigate the river safely. Children must be accompanied by adults. Ecologists and naturalists will lead data collection activities: however, you do not have to be a skilled naturalist to participate.

Data from the expedition will be shared on the LSRWA website and will help to document existing conditions to compare with data from future expeditions.

Paddlers will gather at the boat landing in Attica at 9 a.m. to unload, shuttle cars, and prepare for launch by 10 a.m. The Attica boat landing is just east of the bridge over the Sugar River on County Road C. The trip is antici-pated to take up to 4.5 hours to reach the take-out point at the boat launch in Albany. To preregister, contact Meredith Tripp by email at mgtripp@icloud. com. A registration fee of $15 per watercraft is required, with checks payable to LSRWA. A map of the route and other details will be provided at the time of registration. Participants will provide their own canoe or kayak, paddles, life jackets, snacks, water, sunscreen, and bug spray. The Lower Sugar River Watershed Association is a not-for-profit conservation organization based in Brodhead Wis., dedicated to the care and enjoyment of our water resources and to empowering citizens with experience and knowledge to steward land and water resources in the Lower Sugar River Watershed. Juda-Albany beats Pardeeville in regional semi-final

By Derek Hoesly CORRESPONDENT

The one-seed Juda-Albany Panthers (22-2 overall, 14-1 Six Rivers) made quick work of eight-seed Pardeeville 17-2 in four innings in a WIAA Division 4 regional semifinal matchup last Thursday.

Pardeeville immediately mounted a scoring threat in the top of the first. Becca Ives worked a one-out base-on-balls. Courtney Peterson followed with a slow roller down the first-base line to advance Ives into scoring position. Panthers' starter junior Nicki Becker struck out Payton Purtell swinging to put up a pivotal early zero.

"Nicki threw a great game tonight. Later on, we kind of got into a throwaround in the one inning, but really it's kind of hard to keep your focus too defensively when you're hitting the ball that well," coach Bill Davis said.

Juda-Albany exploded for nine runs in the bottom of the first. Senior Chelsea Burkhalter drew a walk. and senior Sara Jordan hammered a double down the left field line to put runners on second and third with one out. Senior Sayde McDermott tattooed a two-run double to deep left field. Becker drilled an RBI single into centerfield to extend the lead to 3-0. After two straight walks, junior Haley Freitag delivered a bases-loaded, two-run single into left center.

Sophomore Brianna Crull slides safely into second.

Senior Riley Adkins then put down a sacrifice bunt that Pardeeville starter Brianna Brandner fielded and threw to first baseman Kirston Purtell, who dropped the throw to allow the sixth run to cross home plate. Burkhalter lined a two-run single right back up the middle to balloon the lead to 8-0. Jordan drew the Panthers' fifth baseon-balls of the frame to load the bases with one out. McDermott picked up her third RBI in the inning with a fielder's choice to the shortstop.

'We were talking about trying to get off to a fast start, but that was a little bit more than I could have imagined," Davis said.

The Panthers added two runs in the bottom of the second. Junior Hailey Kammerer showed plate discipline as she worked a leadoff walk and advanced 60 feet on junior Sammi Detra's productive groundout. Freitag worked the Panthers' seventh walk of the game to put runners on the corners with one out. Brandner unleashed a wild pitch to allow Kammerer to cross home plate. Se-

RBI double into right field to make the score 11-0.

"We've really been working on going back to the basics, and watching the ball in is really a big thing for us right now. Being patient at the plate and having that discipline helped us a lot," Adkins said.

The Bulldogs scratched across two runs in the top of the third. Becker issued a walk to Brandner with two outs. Ives clubbed an RBI double to left field to plate Brandner. Peterson followed with an infield RBI base hit between second and third. Goecks made a diving stop and throw to first nior Alexis Goecks hooked a two-out to nearly pull off the great play. Moments later, Panthers' second baseman Adkins made a spectacular sliding catch to end the frame.

"I was playing up the middle more toward second. When I saw it go up, I started to go toward first. I wasn't sure if I was going to get it so I dove for it. The catch was very satisfying," Adkins said.

Juda-Albany tacked on four runs in the bottom of the third to go up 15-2. Jordan drew the dreaded leadoff base-on-balls and swiped second. Becker ripped an RBI base hit into centerfield to make the score 12-2. Kammerer hooked a base hit into right field, and Detra worked a walk to load the bases with one out. Adkins stepped to the plate and launched a booming three-run triple to left field to make the score 15-2.

The Panthers continued the relentless offensive attack, adding two runs in the bottom of the fourth. Goecks ripped a double to start the frame. After another walk, Jordan lined an RBI base hit right down the third base line. Becker sealed the Panthers' trip to the regional final with an RBI single into left center.

Becker got the win, going four frames and surrendering two hits, two walks, and two earned runs while recording eight strikeouts.

Becker led the Panthers' offensive attack, going 3-for-4, two runs scored and three RBIs. Goecks went 2-for-3 with two runs scored, one walk, and one RBI in the leadoff spot. Jordan went 2-for-2 with three runs scored. two walks and one RBI. Juda-Albany pounded out 12 hits and drew 10 bases-on- balls in the contest.

Manure storage and handling training coming June 12

Manure storage and handling systems have changed in recent years due in part to larger farms, new technologies, and application restrictions. These manure storage and handling systems have potential hazards to workers and rescuers that include confined spaces. The gasses produced by manure as it decomposes require extra precautions when working with manure storage and handling systems.

Nationally, 143 fatalities involved livestock manure storage structures over the years. The most frequent (34%) activity at the time of death was conducting repairs or maintenance activities on manure handling equipment, such as pumps, while the second most frequent activity (22%) was attempting to perform a rescue of another person entrapped or overcome in a manure

storage space

Unfortunately, Wisconsin documented the first open air, non-enclosed manure storage fatality in Portage County in 2016. Additionally, manure gasses claimed 60 head of beef cattle in 2016 in Wisconsin. In 2015, confined space within a manure handling system in Chippewa County claimed the life of a father and son. Approximately one third of all documented incidents involving manure storage facilities are first responders attempting to aid an initial victim.

To help both farmers and emergency response personnel understand the hazards of manure storage and handling systems, a safety workshop will be held at Cottonwood Dairy LLC, 9600 Highway D, South Wayne (southeast of Wiota) on Monday evening, June 12, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Please arrive by 6:15 p.m. to sign in.

The workshop will address confined space and manure gas safety procedures. Confined space and safety equipment, for use with manure storage and handling systems, such as gas monitors, ventilation equipment, and fall protection will be discussed. A confined space is a space where entry and exit is limited.

This workshop is designed for emergency response personnel including firefighters, EMTs, and law enforcement, as well as farmers and their employees who work in and around manure storage systems and confined spaces.

Speakers at the workshop will include Cheryl Skjolaas, UW-Madison/ Extension agriculture safety specialist, and Jeff Nelson, UW-Madison machinery specialist and volunteer firefighter.

Volunteers participate in Gordon Creek cleanup

Pecatonica Pride Watershed Association, Southern Wisconsin Trout Unlimited chapter, Blackhawk TU chapter, and Wisconsin DNR, Southwest Badger RC&D, Wisconsin Farmers Union, and community volunteers have partnered to clear the invasive brush and trees from a section of the Gordon Creek where it enters the Pecatonica River. Twenty-six volunteers attended the May 6 event.

This cooperative venture is made possible through an easement fund from the Wisconsin DNR. The DNR purchases permanent easements from landowners for the purpose of protecting our water quality, and landowners ensure public access for fishing. Landowners also allow access to the DNR, private contractors, and local conservation groups to remove invasives and monitor the water quality to ensure the stream and fish habitat is healthy. The public is provided a beautiful place to walk or sit and reflect, and anglers have high-quality fishing experiences.

This program benefits landowners, stream habitat, water quality, wildlife, anglers, and the local community.

It's not uncommon for Trout Unlimited (TU) chapters to collaborate on projects. While each chapter serves a different area of Wisconsin, often their goals and focus will unite to make a project more successful as is the case for this workday.

Trout Unlimited is a volunteer-driven nonprofit whose mission is to "conserve, protect, and restore coldwater fisheries and their watersheds." Southern Wisconsin TU (SWTU) works in southern Wisconsin and the Blackhawk TU chapter works in the Pecatonica and Sugar River watersheds.

The Pecatonica Pride Watershed Association is a newly formed group. It is a "collaboration of community groups, farmers, fishers, landowners, and river lovers pulling together to improve and promote the Pecatonica River and its trout streams between Blanchardville and Argyle, Wisconsin.'

Kriss Marion, one of the founders of this group, says the group is "encouraging landowners in our project area along the Pecatonica to apply for funds to cover things that are unusual, creative, or that don't fit into the general agency guidelines. We want to get conservation work done by whatever means possible.'

If you have land along the Gordon Creek or another trout stream in the Pecatonica River Watershed and wish to protect and restore it, contact the Wisconsin DNR. We are all connected through the water we see above ground and the water we use and drink below the surface.

K's Outback Orfordville celebrating 20 years

K's Outback Café will be celebrating its 20-year anniversary Saturday, June 3, at the Orfordville American Legion. The event will begin at 3 p.m. and will include food, fun, and live music. The celebration is open to the public.

K's Outback Café is a small business owned and operated by Kay and Gordy Nelson. The business is located at 313 North Brodhead Street in Orfordville.

The restaurant has been serving down-home cooking with friendly service for 20 years. The café was a lifelong dream for Kay. She attributes her achievement to her supportive and loving husband. Kay's family, friends, employees, and customers are the backbone of her success and weathering of all the trials and tribulations over the last two decades.

In November 2009, K's Outback saw a fire that totally destroyed the building. Kay said it was one of the most horrific experiences of her life. She watched all the hard work, sacrifice, and hopes for the future disintegrate. The support and strength provided by her family, friends, and customers inspired her to rebuild. K's was reopened and renewed in March of 2010.

Today's K's Outback continues to do the very best to provide a good meal at a reasonable price. Customers come from all over to experience the Midwestern fare.

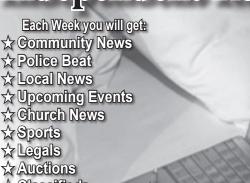

Kay, her family, and her employees get great joy from the smiling faces and full bellies of those they serve. Kay, Gordy, and their family hope to continue for years to come.

Concentration camp survivor speaks on the Holocaust

BY DIANA VANCE

A concentration camp survivor is a rarity today. Most of the 120,000 live in Israel. But there are some who live in the United States. Magda Herzberger, formerly from Monroe, Wisc., is one of them. She is 91 years old and is still carrying her Magda Herzberger message of what went on in the concentration camps around the world.

Magda lives day by day carrying out a promise she made to God when she was in the death camp of Bergen Belsen. Near death she praved to God, saying, "If you let me live, I will spend my life keeping alive what went on in these camps." For forty-four years, she has spoken to thousands of students and adults telling them what she experienced in three concentration camps. Her first public talk was in Brodhead, Wis.

It all began in her home city of Cluj, Romania. Magda and all the Jews had to suffer persecution beginning in the mid and late 1930s from the Hungarian and Romanian governments. When the Germans came in 1944, the Jews were told to wear a yellow star to mark them as Jews. In May of that year eighteen-yearold Magda, her father, and many relatives were arrested by the Germans in Cluj and shoved into cattle cars.

After three days, the doors on the cattle cars were finally opened, and the crowded Jews were let out. Magda's father, sensing that they would be separated, leaned over to her and said, "My child, my dear daughter, what happens. Hang on to those three strong pillars of life: faith, hope, and love.'

They were now in Auschwitz-Birkenau, which was the largest and most infamous German concentration camp run by the high Nazi SS guards and officers. Their purpose was to murder Jews in the huge killing facilities by using poison gas. They could kill 3,000 Jews at one time. This atrocity continued around the clock. Next to the gas chambers were crematoriums where the dead Jews were burned and only ashes were left. Behind the crematoriums, Nazi guards shot many men. It was like sport to them. Eighteenyear-old Magda was horrified.

The sadistic Joseph Mengele was the chief selector and chief physician. Those on the left would go to the gas chamber. Those on the right would be spared as long as they were useful. Because she was strong, having been a champion fencer, she was spared from going to the gas chamber. Instead, Magda was given the backbreaking job of digging huge graves because the crematoriums lacked room to take all the bodies that were coming out of the killing facilities.

One day, Magda was given a different job. She now had the gruesome task of picking up dead bodies in the barracks, by the electric fence where Jews committed suicide, and throughout the camp. She threw them into a waiting truck. Some were partially decayed, and some were half eaten by rats. The presence of death was with her every day. Once again, the endurance and strength that came from fencing allowed her to do this repulsive job.

The corpses she picked up were remember to follow the path of love, stripped naked and thrown into the wood was strewn over the dead Jews and lit. As they burned, an offensive odor of death never to be forgotten filled the camp.

Her clothes were taken away when she reached the camp. She was given a dark blue cotton dress that went to her ankles. She was given no underwear. All the women had their heads shaved. Behind the barracks was an outhouse. There was no place where she could wipe her hands, so she spit into them to clean them

Every morning at 3:30 a.m., Magda and the other women in the barracks were beaten from their sleep by the SS Nazi guards using hard rubber clubs. They were ordered to go outside and form rows of five and stand in perfect formation for roll call.

One day the commandant of the camp, Josef Kramer, came. He was called the Beast of Auschwitz because he was extremely cruel. Many times, the women had to kneel with their arms raised up and hold that position for hours. If they couldn't do it, they were whipped and sent to the gas chamber.

Another time, the chief female commandant of the camp, Irma Giesie, came to see their role call. With her was a German Shepherd who was trained to kill. She was an extremely beautiful woman on the outside, but inside, she was a sadist. Her mind contained many atrocities she would inflict on the prisoners. They called her the Angel of Death.

In this world of hatred and inhumanity, Magda often called on God. Her prayers gave her hope. This connection with God helped her to carry on.

She noticed she was losing weight. She wondered how long she could forgiveness, and tolerance, no matter deep pit. When the pit was filled, put in cattle wagons with 500 other and called on God with this prayer: women. They were taken to another concentration camp just outside Bremen, a port in Germany.

Winter was coming. The women were still in their dresses and were not given warmer clothes. They feared frostbite.

Sent into the streets of Bremen, the women had to pick up anything the German war effort could use. They also were clearing the ruins. The streets were very dangerous because of all the Allied bombings over Bremen. The alarms were sounding everywhere. It was like a terrifying nightmare. Magda hid in the shelters with the guards, but often, a shelter was hit.

In mid-March, the women were told to begin a three-day march. Magda and the others marched for hours on a dirt road. At twilight, they came to a barn-like building. Magda slept on a hard, wooden floor. Her body ached, and she was exhausted. The women hadn't been fed.

At daylight, they continued their march. Many women could not go on, and they were shot and left for wild animals to eat. On the night of the third day, half the women survived and reached the Bergen-Belsen concentration camp, where prisoners go to die.

The first thing Magda noticed was the stench in the camp. There were thousands of corpses on the ground. Jews who were still alive were walking skin and bone and had a vacant look. The living slept on the ground with the corpses.

Magda was now skin and bone. She knew she was near death, and she was only 19 years old. She loved nature and not far away was a birch tree. Somehow, she willed herself to crawl to it. She wrapped her arms lift the dead. Then one day, she was around the trunk of the birch tree herzberger@yahoo.com.

"God, if you let me live, I will spend my life telling what went on in these horrible camps."

When she finished her prayer, the British army came upon the camp by accident. They used their tanks to push down the gates. The soldiers could not believe what they saw: the skin-and-bone prisoners and thousands of corpses lying on the ground. One soldier saw Magda was alive, and he picked her up with tears streaming down his face.

It took a year for Magda to recuperate physically, but she had nightmares for years.

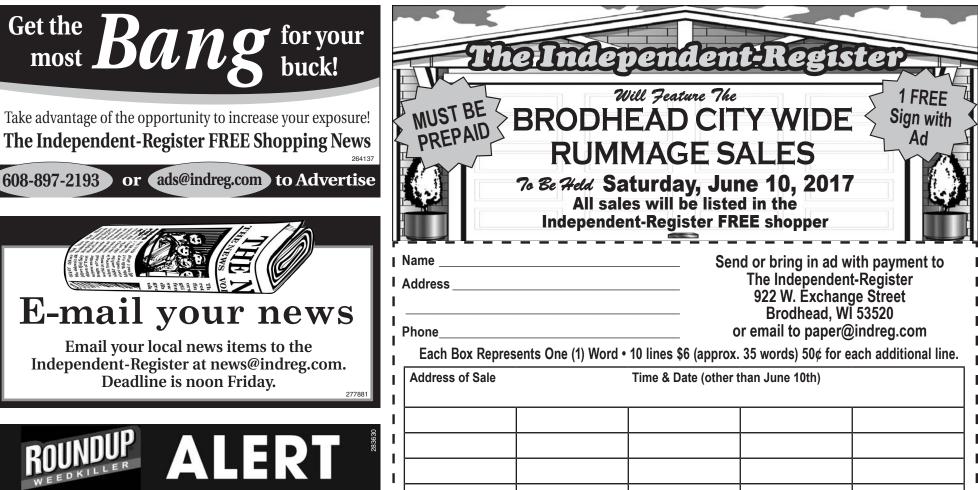

Now, at age 91, the nightmares come just once in a while. She wrote her autobiography, "Survival," in 2005, which meant she had to relive her days in the camps.

She is a courageous woman and believed this was another way to tell people what happened there. She has written a total of 13 books.

She has been invited by universities all across the United States from Massachusetts, Virginia, Georgia, Tennessee, Wisconsin, and Arizona. Using international email correspondence, she has given her presentation abroad to South Africa, Australia, Great Britain, Indonesia, Japan, Sweden, Germany, Israel and Uzbekistan. Magda smiles when she says, "I don't know where they get my name, but I respond to them with my experiences in the concentration camps."

In spite of all her experiences in the camps, she is still a loving and forgiving person, and she has no hatred in her heart. Magda and her husband, Dr. Eugene Herzberger, live in Fountain Hills, Ariz. He is a retired neurosurgeon who practiced at the Monroe Clinic and around the area.

What made you decide to open your business in Orfordville?

answers may have been edited for about three years ago and are raising a family. It's nice getting to see my neighbors and them getting to see me. they know that I'm here to help with whatever they need.

Who else is on your team?

A: Megan, my wife, is our Book Keeper, I joke that she is the CFO.

Nathan Potter is my General Service Technician. He is from Roscoe, Ill. He is planning to buy a home here in town in the near future to be closer to work.

Peter McMahon is our Service Advisor. He was born and raised in Orfordville; his wife Sommer is a teacher at Parkview High School.

What services do you offer?

A: We are a full-service repair shop. We can take care of all your repair needs, anything from alignments to tires, brakes, electrical diagnostics, check engine lights, maintenance -you name it, we work on it.

We have all the capabilities that you would find at a dealership but at much lower prices. We can handle diesel repair to hybrids, foreign or domestic. We provide digital inspections with pictures for every care that we service. The pictures help with knowing where your money is going.

We take the time to discuss what needs to be done or what can wait. We usually can give you a few options to work with your budget. We're here to help, not to sell you things.

When does your shop provide a courtesy car for customers having their vehicles serviced?

A: Any repair that would take any length of time, typically anything that would take more than a few hours. We also offer a free drop-off or pick-up in reasonable range. Once again, we're Does your shop buy vehicles?

A: We are currently waiting for the state to issue our dealer's license. Once we have that, we plan to offer a few cars for sale. If a customer is interested in selling their car, we may be able to offer them a fair price for it. Typically, in our field, we are looking for a vehicle that may need some TLC that we can repair or refurbish to sell.

7. What are the shop's business hours?

A: Our current hours are 8 a.m. to currently considering being open on Saturdays. We do have a key drop box available 24 hours a day.

What's on tap for the grand opening June 10?

A: We will be having 99.9 WJVL doing a live broadcast. It is from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will be door prizes, pulled pork sandwiches from Knute's Bar and Grill, hotdogs, chips, and beverages. People can tour our brand-new facility and meet the staff.

"If you can draw it, I can build it" -Dale Everson.

Rosemary 93. Flynn. gently passed into eternal rest Saturday, on May 27, 2017, and joined her husband, Tom. Rosemary was born Nov. 30, 1923, in Magnolia, the daughter of Talbot and Rose (Heffron) Drew.

After graduating from high school, she worked at Parker Pen in Janesville

Rosemary married Tom Flynn on June 9, 1945, at St. Augustine's Catholic Church in Footville and was especially proud to be marrying another of Irish descent. During their 67 years of marriage, they worked side-by-side in their endeavors. These included the opening of "Flynn's Tap" in Albany in 1960, "Flynn's Bar and Restaurant" in Brodhead in 1963, and "Flynn's Bar and Restaurant" in Monticello in 1974. They may be most remembered for their Friday Night Fish Fry. Rosemary worked many long hours in their family businesses and also at home caring for their seven children.

After their children were grown, Rosemary accompanied her husband to several conventions across the country while Tom held the position of President of the South Central Wisconsin Tavern League for 25 years, President of the State Tavern League beginning in 1981, and President of the National Licensed Beverage Association starting in 1987. But their favorite and most memorable trip was to Ireland.

Rosemary was a very compassionate and generous person. If she was aware that any patrons had no place to go on a holiday, they were invited to the Flynn home to join her family. She was also known to give away a few meals from time to time in their establishment. She always put others before herself and could find good in everybody.

Rosemary is survived by four sons: Richard (Cathy) Flynn, Brodhead; Dan (LaVon) Flynn, Oregon; Michael Flynn, Ft. Walton Beach, Flor.; and Thomas Flynn, Jr., Bloomington, Ill.; two daughters: Rosalie Clark and Ann (Tom) Richmond, Brodhead; 15 face, grandchildren; 21 great-grandchildren; one great-great grandchild; one sister-in-law, Sis Drew, Janesville; and one brother-in-law, Jim Flynn, Janesville; and several nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her husband, Tom, in 2012; son, Patrick, in 2003; parents in 1950; daughter-inlaw, Rena; four brothers and sistersin-law: Jim (Margaret), Tom (Doris), Daniel (Dard), and Joe; and three sisters and brothers-in-law: Margaret (Mike) Collins, Mary (Sam) Saevre, and Charlotte (Ed) Dunn.

Rosemary had a quiet demeanor but a strong presence. She will be greatly missed.

Visitation will be held at 9:30 a.m., Wednesday, May 31, 2017, followed by a Mass of Christian Burial at 11 a.m. at St. Rose Catholic Church, Brodhead, with Father Michael Moon presiding. Burial will follow in Greenwood Cemetery. Friends and relatives are invited to a luncheon in the church basement after the interment. The Newcomer Funeral Home, Brodhead, is assisting the family.

Online condolences may be made at www.dlnewcomerfuneralhome.com.

The family would like to express their heartfelt thanks to Steve, Jodi, Vicki, and staff at Caring Hands for the compassionate care and friendship they provided our mother during the time she was there. Also, thank you to Monroe Clinic Hospice for their support and help in her final days.

An Old Irish Blessing:

May the road rise up to meet you. May the wind always be at your back.

May the sun shine warm upon your and rains fall soft upon your fields. And until we meet again, May God hold you in the palm of His hand.

ald A. and Hazel B. (Hamilton) Huschka.
