Fed up with shallow offerings in genre, Schwartzlow pens horror novel

BETH BLAKEMORE PHOTO Brodhead Independent-Register

Brodhead native, and former Independent-Register editor, Siara Schwartzlow reads from her recently-published novel, "The House on Valley Street," at Albertson Library in Albany, Wis., on Oct. 14.

By Ryan Broege
EDITOR

Beth Blakemore contributed to this story.

Siara Schwartzlow has always favored horror as a genre, both in books and movies, but became increasingly dissatisfied with what she saw on the shelves, and especially what was in theatres.

"Horror stories have bored – maybe even offended – me in recent years, particularly in the movies. I'm so sick of half-naked sorority girls galloping through the woods at night, twigs tearing at their nighties, while a bad guy chases after them with an axe or a chainsaw," she wrote in an email interview ahead of her reading at the Albany library last Saturday. "That's not horror."

"My protagonist is a female, and she shows her emotional strength in coping with family turmoil and her cunning in solving the mystery at hand, even if she does have help," Schwartzlow said.

During maternity leave for her son, who will turn 2 years old in December, Schwartzlow picked up a story she had started writing in college and molded it into a finished product, "The House on Valley Street."

The story follows 25-year-old Sophia Wesley, searching for her place and a sense of meaning in her post-college world. In the wake of a family tragedy, Sophia commits to exploring her mother's childhood home, where she uncovers a long-forgotten secret, and also encounters a romantic possibility.

The story is based on stories Schwartzlow heard as a child from her mother. The house that inspired the story is still standing, beside a cemetery, in Rockford, Ill.

Readers will not encounter blood and gore, but Schwartzlow warned that the story does turn "gruesome" at points.

The frights provided by the book are of the "goosebumps, look-over-your-shoulder," variety, she said.

Schwartzlow said she always knew she wanted to write a book, and has a minor in professional in writing and publishing along with her bachelor's degree in English. She also credited the guidance and inspiration she received from fellow Brodhead native Tegan Shelton, who also wrote a book, "Before a Million Universe."

Albertson Memorial Library Director Kara Blue said although horror is not her usual genre, she really enjoyed it, and finished it in a weekend.

Schwartzlow is former editor of the Independent-Register, from early 2016 through July of this year. She is now teaching 8th grade English and language arts at Monroe Middle School.

Schwartzlow said she finds marketing the book more demanding than writing the novel. Schwartzlow also designed the book, from the words on the page to the cover, the typeface, binding, and so on.

Reviews, feedback and questions about story elements from family, friends and strangers in the street, however, have proved to be the most rewarding, she said.

Schwartzlow will be at the Edgerton Sterling North Book and Film Festival in Edgerton, Wis.

Interested buyers can also find the book at Pinnow Pharmacy in Brodhead, Turtle Creek Books in Beloit, Up In The Attic in Evansville, Bookworld in Janesville and Edelweiss Gifts in Monroe.

It is also available online through Amazon.

Albany group aims to brighten up Legion Park, youths' futures

The minds and hearts of youth have the tenacity to spark change and accomplish great things. Along the way, you have the opportunity to make a difference, and that time is now.

The softball field at Legion Park in Albany, in its picturesque setting by the river, is home to some tenacious youth and high school softball teams.

However, the Legion Park softball field does not have lights, which limits their playing opportunities.

Local youth softball players set out to change that, and their passion is matched by many in our community.

Although there has been talk about finding funds for softball lights at Legion Park for years, there hasn't been a coordinated commitment, until now. It started with several girls setting up a stand during the 2017 Albany garage sales days.

They decided to sell various homemade projects and baked goods to raise money for the lights and other improvements.

Can you imagine the amazement when they raised over 200 dollars? Even more telling were the comments and words of encouragement from community members who spoke out in support of this effort.

Currently, efforts have become coordinated to make this vision a reality. The American Legion received tremendous donations from Henkels and McCoy, and Alliant Energy, as poles for the lights were donated and will be delivered soon.

This donation includes setting the poles and trenching for the wire. Additionally, an anonymous donor has provided materials for the brackets to hold the lights.

The Brighten Their Future committee, in cooperation with the McDermott-Steindorf American Legion

Post 144, the Village of Albany, and Albany Community1st!, has set a fundraising goal of $50,000 to cover the remaining costs for the lights. Once the lights are paid for, any additional funds will be utilized for improvements such as installing safety netting and enclosing the dugouts.

Your donation is key. As a donor, you are investing in our youth and our community. With a contribution of 100 dollars or greater, your name/company will be recognized on a board at Legion park. There are six levels of donations and benefits including: grand slam, home run, triple, double, single, and friends.

You can donate directly at Town Bank in Albany by making a deposit or sending a check payable to Albany Community1st! with "Brighten Their Future" written on the memo line.

Thank you for reading, donating, and spreading the word in person and through social media! Please be on the lookout for upcoming fundraising events. Keep up to date by liking our Facebook page Brighten Their Future or visit our webpage www.brightentheirfuture.com

Pastor's Corner

By Rev. Dave Frey
CONGREGATIONAL UCC, BRODHEAD

The news is full of trauma and ugliness these days. I believe it is important to pay attention. Jesus asked his friends to stay awake, to keep company, to sit watch while he was in agony.

My knowledge and experience of Jesus' Spirit indicates the Risen Savior must be in agony now. The least I can do is be alert and get informed.

The spirit is willing, but the body is weak. The truth is, I fall asleep daily. Mass murder, the president taunting international and political enemies on Twitter, sexual harassment, the National Anthem controversy, proposed tax reform that disproportionately benefits the richest of the rich in a nation riddled with economic inequality: it is all exhausting; it's more than I can bear.

Parkview students step into Pizazz leadership positions

In a press release announcing this year's leadership, Parkview Show Choirs Director Alyssa Case wrote:

"These students are not only leaders in the music department, but also within the classroom, other activities at Parkview High School and the Orfordville community. These six students are trustworthy individuals who I am proud to present as my leadership team."

Congratulations to the following members, who were asked what show choir means to each of them, personally, what they would tell other students thinking about joining Pizazz, and what other activities they are involved with.

Sr. co-captain Mason Spencer

I have been in show choir since 7th grade and I feel that it has become a second family to me over time. I very much enjoy the competitions, but I feel my best show choir memories were made during practices. There is never a dull moment in Pizazz.

I feel that show choir is truly a judgment-free place where people can let their true colors show. It helps you grow as a person, and give you a feeling that can't be described.

Other activities: FFA, Class Officer, Track, Musicals, Student Council

Jr. co-captain Lacy Broetzmann

Show choir is and has always been one of my first priorities. The singing and dancing is such a small part of it. The love and sense of family the group gives you is indescribable. Show choir is like nothing else you'll experience in and out of high school. You gain new friendships, spread more love, and always know you'll have people who've got your back.

Other activities: Woodman's employee, piano

Sr. co- Dance captain Zach Draeving

Show choir, to me, is somewhere I can go and be completely myself. I have never experienced anything like it. I have gained another family in my life.

Anyone who is on the edge about show choir should definitely give it a chance. I thought show choir was something I would never consider, then I became good friends with someone in the group so I tried it out and have loved it ever since.

Other activities: Cross-country, Track & Field, Musicals, Class Officer

Sr. co- Dance captain Pam Garcia

I joined show choir because I had a big interest in both singing and dancing and then found out there was such thing as a group that did both so I decided to join. Also I wanted to do something that would take me out of my comfort zone. I think that students should join show choir because it is not like any other group. The environment is so welcoming and it's really amazing to be part of a group of kids who are so passionate about what they are doing.

Other activities: Spirit squad, band, National Honor Society

Sr. co- Dance captain Lane Hubanks

Show choir to me is everything because of the experience I gain and the friendships I make and just because I love the stage.

I would tell them to try it and see what it's like to be a part of a family that will always be there for you and show you what show choir is really about.

Jr. co- Dance captain Lauren Hammes

Show choir is a place where I can freely express myself. Show choir is more than being part of a team; it's being part of a family that is always there for me no matter what. Being a part of show choir has been a big journey for me, and I'm glad with how far the program has come and how far I've come. I love it very much.

Show Choir is so much fun. You get to dance and sing with some of the most amazing people you will ever meet. The staff/directors are so devoted to us and work so hard to make this program an amazing one and it truly is. I love show choir very much, and if you join, you will too.

Other activities: Volleyball, Softball, Parker Summer Musicals, Parker Musicals (Costumes), Parkview Musicals.

In Loving Memory of Tyler Forrester
 May 27, 1986 – October 21, 2007

Ten years ago you left us
 The day God took you home.
 Everyday we wonder why,
 But we may never know.

We hold onto the memories,
 And share them when we can.
 We think about you every day,
 How you grew from boy to man.

Our lives are changed forever,
 Our hearts will never mend.
 But day by day we will go on,
 We know it's not the end.

For you are always with us,
 Every minute of the day.
 We know you're watching over us,
 In your own special way.

"Always on our mind, Forever in our heart"
 Love - Dad, Mom, and Kimberly

Thank you to our 3 children and grandchildren for the open house they did for our 50th wedding anniversary. Also to all our family and friends that came to help us celebrate the day!

All the cards, gifts and wishes meant so much to us!

We love you all!

Orioles soar past Cardinals

By Derek Hoesly
CORRESPONDENT

The Argyle Orioles showed why they're undefeated in Six Rivers play with a three-game sweep 25-11, 25-6, 25-17 over the Juda Panthers (9-11 overall, 5-7 Six Rivers) last Thursday in the regular season finale.

Argyle wasted no time jumping on Juda with a 9-2 start in set one. Dorissa DeNure hammered a middle spike to fuel the hot start. Jadyn Saalsaa racked up two aces during the stretch. The Panthers rallied for three straight points to trim the deficit to 9-5. Senior Maddie Roth lined up an outside smash and found the floor. Juda then won an extended rally with spectacular digs.

The Orioles responded with a game-changing 8-3 run to go up 17-8. Jena Saalsaa smoked a kill on the outside to spark the run. Jena Saalsaa was a force on the outside all night. Jena Saalsaa hammered a match-high 10 kills. DeNure executed a dink in the middle and Ashley Bruehlman tattooed a loud cross court spike to the back corner.

Bruehlman racked up nine kills in the match. The duo of Jena Saalsaa and Bruehlman proved too much for the Panthers on this night. The Orioles closed out set one with a 6-0 run that included a Morgan Nelson outside smash.

"Jena and Ashley had 19 kills in a very short match tonight and the big thing with Ashley that gets overlooked is she was very powerful but the truth is she is the best passer they have back there too and she kept a lot of balls that we were trying to push out of her zone she went and got. She did a nice job passing tonight," Head Coach Scott Anderson said.

Game two started terribly for the Panthers falling behind 13-0. Jena Saalsaa laced two spikes including one to the back row on the outside. The Orioles controlled the tempo in games one and two. Juda had no answer for the Orioles fast paced offense as Argyle got a number of clean swings.

"They dominated the ball. They controlled the passes. We didn't put the pass where we needed so then we're out of system and they're in system and that's what happens when a good team is in system. You get scores like 25-11, 25-6," Anderson said.

The lead ballooned to 22-3 as the Orioles went on an 8-0 run. Nelson drilled two outside kills including a cross court smash. DeNure and Jena Saalsaa each connected on outside kills during the run.

Juda played the Orioles tough in game three. The Panthers grabbed an early 5-3 lead. Argyle came back with a 5-0 run to take an 8-5 lead. Nelson had a tip on the outside to ignite the momentum swing. Argyle put the match away with a 7-0 run to take a commanding 15-6 lead. Bruehlman tattooed two outside kills including an unstoppable down the line spike.

The Panthers showed heart midway through set three as they went on a 5-0 run to cut the deficit to 22-15. Roth smoked loud outside spikes and served up an ace.

"We never surrender. We tried to ignore the scoreboard. Maddie Roth came back to make that serve run and every ball we chased down. That's the thing with us. We had to take this moment and Argyle is a great team. You want to have your shots at them," Anderson said.

Senior Hailey Kammerer led the Panthers' hitting attack with five kills. Senior Erika Duecker paced Juda with two blocks. Kammerer and senior Samantha Anderson each racked up two aces. Senior Mackenzie Byrne led the Panthers with 11 assists. Kammerer had a match-high eight digs.

"I think it tells the girls what we have to work on. We're going to have to control passes better and if we control the passes better everything gets better. The real reason Argyle dominated tonight is they were in control of serve game and that kept us out of offense," Anderson said.

The nine-seed Panthers open the WIAA playoffs on Tuesday, October 17 when Juda travels to Hartland to take on eight-seed University Lake High School. The WIAA Division 4 regional quarterfinal is scheduled for a 7 p.m. first serve.

"Theoretically we're pretty evenly matched. We don't have a lot of information on them. In volleyball and with our kids especially it's us going up there and doing what we do getting short and covering and when we have our hits taking the attacks," Anderson said.

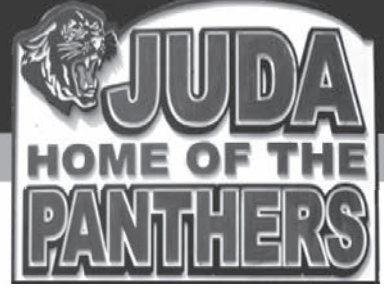

"This was the seniors last home game. They have given a lot to the program. They have set the culture the last four years on a team that has been competitive every night. The scores didn't show it tonight. We dug and chased all night and that competitiveness is what makes a difference. They led that. That is what they showed the underclassmen," Anderson said.

This year's musical has many Munchkins, including Mayor: Nicole Nickolson; Coroner: Bethany Woodward; Barrister: Sharlene Swedlund; City People: Gracyn B., Ariel Foesch, Zach Ammon; Tough Guys: Aaron Makos, Mason Kammerer, Avery Sheaffer; Fiddler: Natalie Baum; Braggart: Lorelei Paggett; School Teachers: Sara Riese, Annabell Neidermeier; and Tots: Ciarrh Davis, Libby Jordan, Liana Daniels.

THE WIZARD OF OZ

There will be an all-cast practice on Sunday, October 22, from 12-3 p.m. All cast members should have their completed outfits for this practice. The performances will be held on November 3, 4, and 5. Tickets for the performances will be sold the week before, and wands and ears will be sold up until the performance.

VOLLEYBALL

Tuesday, October 10, Juda played Monticello at home and won in 4 sets. Erika Ducker had a team high of 9 kills, helping Mackenzie Byrne rack up her 20 assists. Hailey Kammerer held a team best of 10 digs, and Zoe Rathsack had 3 blocks.

Thursday, October 12, Juda played Argyle at home and lost in 3 sets. Hailey Kammerer had 5 kills and 8 digs. Mackenzie Byrne had 11 assists, and fellow player Erika Duecker had 2 blocks.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Brodhead-Juda Cross Country Team ran in the Rock Valley Conference Meet at Whitewater on Thursday, October 12. The girls' varsity team placed 4th overall, and the boys varsity team placed 5th. The Sectional Cross Country Meet in Platteville will be held on Saturday, October 21.

SPANISH CLUB

Dues of $5 to join Spanish Club are due November 7. At the last meeting on October 4, a long sleeve shirt preview was shared. The cost for the shirts is $13, which is due November 7, also. On Thursday, October 26, classes will be traveling to La Iguana restaurant to learn about the owner's Day of the Dead presentation and altar. The students enrolled in Spanish Club will be eating lunch on October 26 at La Iguana with free tamales provided by the owner, Carlos Olmedo.

STEAM

STEAM will soon start another year of activities. They will be held during Flex time once a week with a culminating activity later in the year.

MATH DEPARTMENT

Mr. Anderson is trying out another new online teaching method through Big Ideas Math. This program forces students to actually get the correct answer for their practice problems "homework" instead of just making it look like they did the homework, and they aren't allowed to skip problems and just do most of them. They also have the option to get a real person to assist them on some of the problems if they can't figure them out; otherwise, they are able to view the answer and how it is supposed to be found.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Every member (band and choir) of the Juda Music Department is required to purchase a music department polo for performances and other events. New members, incoming freshmen, and all middle school members need to purchase a polo this year. All polos come in adult sizes S-3XL. JFAB will be paying for the additional costs of the polos, so the cost that each member needs to pay is $10. Order forms can be found in the choir room, and they are due to Mrs. Way by Friday, October 20.

The Junior and Seniors of the High School Music Department will be attending a performance of the opera "Carmen" on Wednesday, November 1. This performance is a special student matinee at the Overture Center put on by Madison Opera. Each student ticket is $5.00. Permission slips were sent out Wednesday, October 9, and students who are attending the opera should have the permission slip signed and returned with $5.00 to Mrs. Way by Friday, October 27.

The High School Choir will be participating in the Six Rivers East Music High School Conference Choir on Monday, November 6. All seven schools in the conference will be bringing their High School Choirs to rehearse and sing in a concert as a mass conference choir. Allen Redford, a retired music professor from Highland Community College and BelCanto director, will be the guest conductor and clinician for the day. The concert is free and open to the public, and family members are encouraged to attend. Students who are participating in the choir are required to wear concert black (all black dress clothes of their own—not the normal choir tuxes and dresses) for the performance. Permission slips were given to the students on Wednesday, October 9. Students need to have their permission slip signed and returned to Mrs. Way by Friday, October 27.

ART DEPARTMENT

Last week the kindergarten class worked on painting ROYGBIV between lines, and the first graders added paint to their collages. The second graders continued weaving with burlap, while the third graders added colors to their prints. The fourth graders continued working on tessellation, and the fifth graders painted their city project with watercolors. The sixth graders learned how to attach hinges to their sarcophagus so they could open them up to reveal a mummy inside, and the eighth graders gathered artwork for an art show. The high schoolers started a drawing unit and are working on creating an art piece from one of the following mediums: pencil, charcoal, pen/ink, oil pastel, or chalk pastel.

REC. DISTRICT

The annual Family Fun Halloween Party is scheduled for Thursday, October 26, starting at 6:00 p.m. There will be a costume contest, Halloween games, Halloween crafts, and a light meal. All students are invited to attend this event. It will be a great time!

JUDA ELEMENTARY

It was Fire Safety Week in the elementary last week. The students visited the Juda Fire Station to learn about fire safety. Thank you to the fire men and women for teaching us how to stay safe.

JFAB

The musical is fast approaching. Parents are always encouraged to help. Please contact Wendy Roth at wr@judaschool.com if you would like to help during any of the performances.

FFA

FFA members had a great time learning more about leadership and about FFA at the Sectional Leadership Workshop held on Tuesday, October 10. The members who attended SLW also had the chance to learn more about their Section 5 FFA Officer, Liz Grady. Another trip that FFA members had to opportunity to take was to the J.P. Cullen Career Day held on Thursday, October 12. Members had the chance to learn many new skills, learn more about the career area, and about the requirements to go into construction. The members had the chance to build concrete forms, screw together a steel stud wall, hammer nails, do masonry brick laying, and much more. As a reward for attending the J.P. Cullen Career Day, the Ag Department received two brand new 12 volt Milwaukee cordless drills.

National FFA Convention is coming up this month. The convention will be held in Indianapolis, Indiana, October 25-28. The six FFA members that are attending are excited to see what this year's convention has to offer.

A goal set by the FFA Officer Team for this year is to increase the attendance of members and families at the banquet in the spring. Also, another goal is to increase the attendance of members at FFA meetings.

MATH TEAM

Math team will be attending the Annual Math Meet in Platteville on November 2. Students will have practice during flex hour at the end of the day on Thursdays and Fridays. Student council will begin to design shirts for the team during the upcoming weeks.

Clarence Bridge 4-H Club preparing new initiatives

By Emma Nelson
CLUB REPORTER

The Clarence Bridge Pioneers 4-H Club had their first meeting of the new year on Sept. 10.

Members shared fair results and herdsmanship results: We place 1st in Sheep and Beef, and 2nd in Dairy.

Members talked about our club project tour that we had at the fair where members shared what they had brought to the fair.

Under new business we discussed 4-H week. We would present a basket to the first baby born during 4-H Week.

Enrollments are due by Wednesday, Nov. 1, to show at the Green County Fair next year.

New officers were elected for the coming year: President Chesnie Wilhite; Vice President Zoe Krattiger; Treasurer Annika Bernstein; Secretary Emma Buetel; Reporter Emma Nelson; Sunshine Harper Krattiger.

At the Oct. 8 meeting, we went to Ten Eyck's Apple Orchard and did the corn maze. We may of gotten lost once or twice, but we all made it out, then went to Spring Grove Town Hall to hold our meeting.

New president Chesney Wilhite called the meeting to order, and we started by discussing the gift basket we awarded to the first baby born during National 4-H Week.

We also talked about the Meals on Wheels program, and how we could donate. We decided to donate 50 dollars to the program.

We talked about what activities that we should do during the meetings next year.

Some of the activities we planned on include helping the White Gift food pantry, "veggie races," May basket, club tour, sing carols, Valentines for Nursing home, and Humane Society. If you want to or already are in 4-H, enrollments are due ASAP, and no later than Wednesday, Nov. 1.

The next meeting is Sunday, Nov. 12 at Spring Grove Town Hall. We hope to see you there.
