KANDU Industries purchases BTC's Advanced Manufacturing Training Center

The Janesville-based non-profit plans move to the facility in Milton to better serve community members

KANDU Industries Inc., a Janesville-based non-profit that provides programs and services to people with disabilities and disadvantages, announced that the company has purchased the 110,000 sq. ft. Blackhawk Technical College Advanced Manufacturing Training Center at 15 Plumb St. in Milton.

KANDU purchased the facility from the Blackhawk Technical College Foundation, which has leased the property to BTC for the last decade. KANDU will move into the building in a series of phases beginning in the fourth quarter of 2023 and will share occupancy of the building with the college.

The facility offers benefits that will enhance KANDU's client experience through a completely accessible layout, spacious rooms, large windows and updated technology.

The building will also provide them with an additional 30,000 sq. ft. and the opportunity to bring all of their operations under one roof, including its client service programs, administrative offices, catering and rental business, and the merging of two production facilities where they employ people with disabilities in a work-safe environment.

The acquisition comes at a critical time for KANDU's strategically planned growth to meet the needs of future generations in the Rock County community.

"We have a dedicated staff and board, a supportive community, and the best clients - and now we have the space to continue to do our remarkable work and serve more families in Rock County and the surrounding area," said KANDU Executive Director Kathy Hansen.

Hansen cited projections that the number of elderly adults with dementia or Alzheimer's disease, whom the non-profit serves in its adult daycare program, is expected to double by 2040.

"We need to take steps now to make sure future generations receive the best care possible, and their families know they can rely on a strong community support system," said Hansen.

The sale also will benefit the Blackhawk Technical College Foundation, which helps to transform the lives of Blackhawk students and the college through scholarships, innovative learning opportunities and state-of-the-art facilities.

"This opportunity will have a rippling effect on how the Foundation can impact and shape the future needs of our students, our college, our community and the region," said Lisa Hurda, Blackhawk director of advancement & foundation.

The new location will increase KANDU's production capacity, which means more jobs and more production revenue. Profit from their production operation goes to support its programs for people with disabilities and disadvantages.

While the building boasts many accommodations, some renovations will be made to best serve KANDU's various businesses, services and programs, including a new commercial kitchen, additional docks for its production services and the removal of interior walls to increase production capacity and client services floor space.

KANDU will hold a capital campaign to help fund the project. Businesses and individuals who are interested in learning more about becoming an early donor to the campaign are encouraged to contact them at 608-755-4123 or email khansen@kanduindustries.com.

KANDU Industries is a 501(c)(3) organization serving Rock County that provides opportunities to people with disabilities and disadvantages. For more than 60 years, these work, social, and daily activities enable KANDU clients to achieve their maximum potential and enjoy the dignity of being productive citizens. Today, KANDU impacts the lives of over 200 clients along with a staff of over 100, and partners with a number of community and governmental agencies to ensure that individual choice and personal development are nurtured in the work environment as well as in other aspects of life.

Established in 1978 as a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, the Blackhawk Technical College Foundation is the bridge between the generosity of philanthropic donors to our students, faculty, and the College by providing resources necessary to make college possible for all. The Foundation provides student support through scholarships and student emergency assistance awards as well as through investment in facilities and resources that enable student success.

Event champions women farmers

Celebrate and experience 'Soil Sisters Taste of Place' at the Monroe Arts Center

Meet Wisconsin's inspiring community of women farmers championing local food and family farms and celebrate the kick-off to summer at "Soil Sisters Taste of Place," a new community event on Saturday, June 3 from 4 to 8 p.m. on the Monroe Arts Center front lawn.

A market with various educational and Green County area produced products along with music by Strings to Roam will highlight this free event.

"The Soil Sisters Taste of Place on June 3 showcases local family farms with a spotlight on the inspiring diversity of women leading these businesses," explains Danielle Matson of Hidden

Garden Bakery in Monroe and co-chair of the event. "Soil Sisters is thrilled to be hosting this family-friendly, community celebration to connect you with this community of women committed to sustainability and organic agriculture and champion the inspiring array of locally-produced products in our region."

Soil Sisters, a project of the non-profit Renewing the Countryside, started in Green County over fifteen years ago to bring together rural women to share knowledge, resources and expertise to collaboratively advocate for conservation, sustainability, local food and networking. Featured on Around the Farm Table along with Midwest Living, Modern Farmer and a Top Rural Development Initiative Award winner, Soil Sisters brings the spotlight to the inspiring stories of Green County area women-owned family farms that produce food and fiber while stewarding the landscape. According to the 2017 Census of Agriculture, Women represent approximately 35 percent of farmers in Wisconsin, a 16 percent increase since 2012. Wisconsin has 1,455 organic farms, second in the country only to California.

"Come meet your farmers and learn about local, seasonal food and how we can all transform what's on our plate," explains Alicia Gasaway of Gasaway Gardens in Monticello and co-chair of Soil Sisters Taste of Place with Matson. "When my family moved to our land in Green County from the Twin Cities, I found the Soil Sisters community very welcoming and has been such a great resource for me of local knowledge as I develop my homestead. If you're interested in anything from gardening year-round to powering up with renewable energy, there will be Soil Sisters at Taste of Place to also support you on your journey."

A variety of market booths will have Soil Sisters providing knowledge as well as having various local products for sale, including meats from Riemer Family Farm in Brodhead, aronia berry products and artwork from Barham Gardens in Brodhead, canned goods from The Old Smith Place in Brodhead and many more local producers. Several educational booths will provide resources on everything from starting a cottage food bakery business in your home kitchen to connecting with agricultural policy and advocacy with the South Central Chapter of the Wisconsin Farmers Union.

Come hungry as there will be food available for purchase including the popular Soil Sisters bake sale featuring a diversity of homemade cookies including gluten-free as well as cider from Brix Cider, a Mount Horeb cidery co-owned by Soil Sister, Marie Raboin. Music by Strings to Roam, led by Soil Sister Colleen Robinson, will be entertaining with bluegrass tunes.

"Soil Sisters showcases the increasing role women farmers play in our rural areas, representing one of the fastest growing groups of new growers prioritizing small-scale, diversified, community-focused agriculture," explains Heather Lynch of Green Haven Gardens and Master Gardener in Brooklyn, who will be available to answer gardening questions and have some of her homegrown plants for sale at her booth at Taste of Place. Students, police enjoyed friendly kickball game

Beloit Fresh Start celebrates mentorship program to help kids

Students from Beloit Fresh Start, a program of Community Action, Inc. of Rock and Walworth Counties, enjoyed a friendly kickball competition with Beloit police officers on May 11 at ABC Supply Stadium in Beloit.

The match was part of a new partnership between the two organizations. Police officers started mentoring the Fresh Start youth earlier this year with regular drop-ins at the Community Action Training Center, including self defense classes, talks about healthy relationships and games of basketball.

"We're making sure that the police department is involved with our kids, make sure they know who we are on a first name basis, on a last name basis," said Beloit Police Chief Andre Sayles.

"We need to be champions of our kids, because one day they're going to be leaders of this community," he said.

The students say their interactions with the officers helped break stereotypes they have of police. Police say they also learned a lot from the youth.

The students won the kickball game 4-3.

About Fresh Start

Beloit Fresh Start Youth-Build AmeriCorps is an education and job-training program for at-risk youth, providing opportunities for youth to help themselves while helping others in the community. Youth are enrolled full-time and attend 32 to 34 hours a week. Half of their time is spent in an intensive individualized educational program to complete their high school education or GED, while the remainder of their time is spent in construction, community service, leadership development, employability and various life skills classes. Beloit Fresh Start is a funded program of United Way Blackhawk Region.

Edvest reminds families to save for higher education

In Wisconsin and throughout the country, National 529 Day is recognized on May 29 (5/29). This day serves to remind families about the importance of saving for a child, grandchild, or another loved one's higher education while highlighting the value and flexibility of saving with a 529 college savings plan.

To celebrate, Edvest 529, Wisconsin's direct-sold 529 college savings plan, is offering a special incentive to help families get started on their higher education savings journey with a bonus deposit incentive.

Individuals who open a new Edvest 529 account between May 22 and May 31, will be eligible for a $50 or $100 bonus incentive.

For a $50 bonus – open an account during the promotion with an initial deposit of $250 or more and set up recurring contributions totaling $50 or more per month until Nov. 30.

For a $100 bonus – open an account during the promotion with an initial deposit of $500 or more and set up recurring contributions totaling $50 or more per month until Nov. 30.

For complete details about the bonus deposit incentive, including the Terms and Conditions, visit Edvest.com/529offer23.

"We're encouraging all Wisconsinites to join us in celebrating National 529 Day by talking with their loved ones about saving for higher education and opening an account to start saving today," said Wisconsin Department of Financial Institutions Secretary-designee Cheryl Olson-Collins.

"The sooner students and families start saving for higher education, the more time their money has to grow, which could provide a stronger financial foundation down the road. Any dollar saved today can help reduce student loan debt tomorrow," Olson-Collins added.

Funds saved with Edvest 529 can be used for education and career training after high school, whether that's through an accredited four-year university, two-year technical or community college, a certificate program, graduate school, or an apprenticeship program registered with the U.S. Department of Labor. Account owners can use their Edvest 529 savings to pay for qualified higher education expenses such as tuition, certain room and board expenses, fees, books, supplies, and equipment required for the enrollment and attendance of a student.

Edvest 529 is a tax-advantaged investment, meaning contributions to an account may qualify for a Wisconsin state income tax deduction of up to $3,860 annually per beneficiary, per year (married couples filing separately and divorced parents may claim a maximum of $1,930). Plus, account earnings grow tax-deferred, and withdrawals are tax-free at the state and federal level when used to pay for qualified higher education expenses.

An account can be opened with $25 in about 15 minutes. The plan has no sales charges, enrollment fees, or annual account maintenance fees. In fact, Edvest 529 is the sixth lowest-cost 529 college savings plan in the nation.

To learn more about saving with Edvest 529, visit Edvest.com or follow them on Facebook and Instagram.

About Edvest 529

For more than 25 years, Edvest 529 – Wisconsin's direct-sold 529 college savings plan – has been helping families save for higher education expenses. Account owners can choose from 24 investment portfolios, access to easy-to-use savings tools, and take advantage of in-state tax benefits for Wisconsin taxpayers.

To learn more about Wisconsin's Edvest 529 College Savings Plan, its investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses please see the Plan Description at Edvest.com. Read it carefully. Investments in the plan are neither insured nor guaranteed and there is the risk of investment loss. Check with your home state to learn if it offers tax or other benefits such as financial aid, scholarship funds, or protection from creditors for investing in its own 529 plan. If the funds aren't used for qualified higher education expenses, a federal 10% penalty tax on earnings (as well as federal and state income taxes) may apply. Consult your legal or tax professional for tax advice. TIAA-CREF Individual & Institutional Services, LLC, Member FINRA, distributor and underwriter for the Edvest 529 College Savings Plan.

Withdrawals for registered apprenticeship programs can be withdrawn free from federal and Wisconsin income tax. If you are not a Wisconsin taxpayer, these withdrawals may include recapture of tax deduction, state income tax as well as penalties. You should talk to a qualified professional about how tax provisions affect your circumstances.

Rock Valley to host first ever LGBTQ+ summit in June

Anyone who is interested in learning about LGBTQ+ topics is invited to attend the first-ever Rock County LGBTQ+ Educational Summit.

The free event is set for 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on June 22 at Blackhawk Technical College, 6004 South County Road G in Janesville.

The summit is sponsored by Family Services of Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois, Inc.; Janesville Pride; Yellow Brick Road; the Rock County LGBTQ+ Committee; and Blackhawk Technical College.

"This event is a result of many groups working together in an effort to help more people in our county understand LGBTQ+ issues," said Stephanie Hormig, LGBTQ+ Survivor Advocate for Family Services. "Many of us who work in the LGBTQ+ community have found that people may have misinformation. There is a need and want for education on LGBTQ+ topics. That's why we developed this educational summit."

The day opens with a keynote session by Dr. Mel Freitag, Assistant Dean of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Training and Innovation at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. She will discuss gender-affirming care and the importance of diversity within the LGBTQ+ community.

The event continues with sessions on topics including LGBTQ+ Mental Health; Allyship; LGBTQ+ Myths; Pronouns; the History of Drag; and the intersection of the LGBTQ+ Community and the Black, Indigenous and People of Color (BIPOC) Community.

Lunch will also be provided at no charge. To register and for more information, visit www.eventbrite.com/e/rock-county-lgbtq-educational-summit-tickets-615062226677.

KANDU Industries hosts 10th Annual Grapes & Hops wine and beer tasting event at Revv Aviation

Unique interactive wine, beer, and hors d'oeuvres tasting experience to benefit programs for adults with disabilities in Rock County

KANDU Industries Inc., a Janesville-based non-profit that provides programs and services to people with disabilities and disadvantages, announced the final details for its 10th annual Grapes & Hops wine and beer tasting fundraiser, which will be hosted on Friday, June 9, from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Revv Aviation airplane hangar located at the Southern Wisconsin Regional Airport at 4606 S. Atlantis Drive in Janesville.

The popular event is known as much for its unique entertainment value as it is for its specialty wine and beer tasting experience because of its interactive themed tasting booths hosted by local celebrities. Guests will travel through a concourse of creatively staged booths featuring themes like Jurassic Park, Kentucky Derby, and "80s workout." A spectacular array of hors d'oeuvres will be served throughout the evening while the trio Sweet, Sour and Spicy perform relaxed covers from 6 to 8 p.m., followed by the funky cover band The Dirty Groove from 8 to 10 p.m.

In between musical sets, there will be a live auction featuring exclusive items such as a one-night stay in the luxury loft above Genisa wine bar that includes a chef's tasting and wine pairing in the restaurant, a one-of-a-kind colorful woven art piece hand-made by KANDU clients, a trip to Ireland, a Revv Aviation discovery flight, and more.

Weather permitting, Revv Aviation will also display special antique and training aircraft as an added attraction for guests to enjoy.

Tickets are $95 each in advance or $110 at the door and can be purchased on the KANDU website at kanduindustries.com/grapesandhops. Tickets are limited, so community members who are interested in attending are encouraged to secure tickets soon.

The Grapes & Hops event is designed to raise funds to support KANDU's many programs for people with disabilities in our community and is made possible by several community donations including major sponsors Revv Aviation, Millennium, Johnson Financial Group, Tricor Insurance, Klobucar Construction, and Elevation Air - Everett Reese Flight School.

Businesses and individuals who are interested in the benefits that come with an event sponsorship or would like to volunteer at the event can learn more at www.kanduindustries.com/grapesandhops or by calling Linda Ross at 608-755-4123, ext. 109. Sponsorship levels range from $500-$10,000.

KANDU Industries is a 501(c)(3) organization, based in Janesville, Wis. that provides opportunities to people with disabilities and disadvantages. For almost 60 years, these work, social, and daily activities enable KANDU clients to achieve their maximum potential and enjoy the dignity of being productive citizens. Today, KANDU impacts the lives of over 200 clients along with a staff of over 100, and partners with a number of community and governmental agencies to ensure that individual choice and personal development are nurtured in the work environment as well as in other aspects of life.

Agrace news

Options for grief support in June

Local adults living in southern Wisconsin who are grieving can find hope and healing with the help of Agrace grief support specialists.

This June, Agrace will host "Bridges," a virtual grief support group for adults who are grieving the death of any loved one. This group provides emotional and peer support in a professionally led, group setting and requires advance registration.

Bridges meets online every other Wednesday and participants can attend as often as they feel the need for support. In June, meetings will be June 14 and 28, from 9:30 to 11 a.m., via Zoom.

Online groups meet via Zoom using a tablet, computer or smartphone, which means people can join from anywhere in the United States.

One-on-one grief support is also available by phone or video chat. This support is open to anyone, even if the person who died did not have hospice care.

There is no fee for Agrace grief support if a participant's family member was served by Agrace Hospice Care or another hospice in the past 12 months. Modest fees may apply for others, and fees can be lowered or waived, if needed.

To make an appointment or register for a grief group, visit Agrace.org/GriefGroups, call 608-327-7110, or email griefsupport@agrace.org.

Thrift store volunteers needed, hosting orientation in June

Agrace is seeking new volunteers in Rock County and surrounding areas and will host a volunteer orientation training to help them prepare for their roles.

Local volunteers are needed to assist customers, operate the cash register and sort donations at the Agrace Thrift Store on Humes Road in Janesville, or make companionship visits to local Agrace Hospice Care patients.

Orientation for new volunteers will be held Tuesday, June 20, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., at the Agrace campus in Janesville. Seniors can receive vouchers for local farmers' markets

What is the Senior Farmers' Market Nutrition Program? Eligible seniors receive vouchers worth $35 to purchase locally grown produce at approved farmers' markets and roadside stands.

Who is eligible? Rock County residents age 60 or older, and Native Americans 55 or older in Rock County, are eligible who have a monthly household income which is not more than $2,248 for one person or $3,041 for two people, etc. Each eligible person may receive vouchers only once in 2023.

How do seniors get these vouchers? Vouchers will be distributed at multiple locations.

There are a limited number of vouchers available; distributions are on a first come, first served basis. How can seniors get vouchers if they can't get to a distribution place?

First option is for those who are unable to get to a distribution and would like someone else to pick up vouchers for them, they must call the ADRC Nutrition Program at 608-757-5428 at least one week in advance of the distribution to request a Proxy Authorization Form. This is the only document which will permit someone else to receive vouchers on behalf of an eligible senior. The form must be signed by the voucher recipient, then taken by the authorized representative to a distribution. Limit of 4 proxy forms per representative. If distributions have already been completed, call 608-757-5428 for voucher availability and options. The second option is that beginning July 3, any remaining vouchers will be distributed on a first come, first served basis. Call 608-757-5428 for availability and options; leave a voicemail.
