Saturday with Fat Daddy' at Traffic Jams

Wisconsin pinstripe artist Mark Hagstrom shows off his talent at the shop as well as nationally

Compiled by Amy Cushing RVP STAFF

On July 22, Traffic James Speed Shop in Clinton, which is owned by Robert Yonkee, hosted "Saturday with Fat Daddy," where pinstripe artist Mark Hagstrom demonstrated this intricate art form for several hours.

That day, Hagstrom, who owns Fat Daddy Lines & Designs, worked his magic on both a truck and a car.

The truck was a Ford F450 Harley-Davidson edition – one of only four in the country. He added pinstripes around the door handles, up the side of the cab, on the tailgate, and around the wheel wells, as well as a hood piece.

"The style of pinstriping is called 'traditional hotrod', with thick and thin lines to add weight in certain places. It's the most widely used style in pinstriping," Hagstrom explained.

The other vehicle, a car, belonged to a woman who wanted custom art. Her nickname is "Mouse", which her father gave her as a young girl, so Hagstrom chose to do a female version of Mighty Mouse on the car, showing that he can do more than add pinstripes.

Scroll style pinstriping is the type used with this car, which Hagstrom describes as "a series of loops and hoops varied ate the look. Then I add little 'feather' style teardrop shapes to accent the design. It is all done free-hand." Hagstrom said he usually does not do client work while at these demonstrations

"I like to focus on my client's project without having interruptions," he said. "I believe that when they are paying me to do their pride and joy, I want my full attention on it.'

Traffic Jams will be featuring Hagstrom every third Saturday of the month, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., so he can continue to share his pinstriping and artistic talents.

About Mark Hagstrom and Fat Daddy Lines & Designs

Hagstrom, of Germantown, owns and operates Fat Daddy Lines & Designs. Fat Daddy features hand painted pinstriping, gold and silver leaf gilding work, graphics and cartoons, signs, and custom fine art. He has been practicing the art professionally for over 31 years.

skills to the Hot Rod community. He also works out of his studio in Germantown outside of the shop.

Some of his accomplishments include being a Roth Foundation approved official Rat Fink artist.

"I love the Rat Fink char-

Jams Speed Shop to offer his acter," he mused, "and do many paintings with him for my customers. The backstory is that in the early 1960s when Mickey Mouse hit the scene, Ed 'Big Daddy' Roth created Rat Fink, which became the anti-Mickey Mouse in that time. Many hot-rodders and bikers were anti-establishment and Rat Fink fit into that culture."

Hagstrom was asked to be part of a traveling art show that focused on pinstriping as a fine art and is being featured at museums across the country. His piece is currently in Salina, Kansas, at the Garage Auto Museum. It's named "Flyin' Paint". He describes it as a 36-inch high by 17-inch wide steel oval with a rolled edge painted metalflake with candy orange and dark oranges. The variegated gold leaf is hand gilded and "engine turned" with three clear coats and eight colors of pinstriping done in Hagstrom's "Donut Boy" style scroll work. There are about 50 top artists from across the country who are also participating in this show. While pinstriping is not yet recognized as an official fine art by the art community, their goal as artists of the almost forgotten craft is to bring it into the art mainstream. The final showing will be the Petersen Auto-

First human case of West Nile virus confirmed in state

DHS urges everyone to continue to prevent mosquito bites

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) and Public Health Madison and Dane County have confirmed the first human case of West Nile virus in a Wisconsin resident this year. The individual is a resident of Dane County. Cases of West Nile virus have also been reported in three horses in Wisconsin and several mosquito pools. The horse cases were located in Dunn and Clark counties, and the positive mosquitoes were from Milwaukee and Lafayette counties.

"This confirmed case in a Wisconsin resident is a reminder that even as summer winds down, we still need to take precautions to prevent mosquito bites. While West Nile virus and other viruses spread by mosquitoes pose a risk to all Wisconsinites, people who have weakened immune systems are at the greatest risk for serious illness," said State Health Officer Paula Tran.

Since West Nile virus was first detected in Wisconsin in 2002, infections in humans have been reported from June through October. An average of 17 cases of West Nile virus are reported among Wisconsin residents each year. West Nile virus infections in humans have been reported from June through October. However, most people with West Nile virus report becoming ill in August and September. The risk of West Nile virus infection continues until the first lemon eucalyptus, or IR3535 hard frost.

West Nile virus is spread to humans, horses, birds, and other animals through the bite of an infected mosquito. Mosquitoes acquire West Nile virus by feeding on infected birds. The virus is not spread directly from person to person, animal to animal, or animal to person.

Most people (80%) who are infected with West Nile virus do not get sick. Those who do become ill usually experience mild symptoms such as fever, headache, muscle ache, rash, and fatigue. However, some people (less than 1%) who become infected with the virus get seriously ill with symptoms that include high fever, muscle weakness, stiff neck, disorientation, mental confusion, tremors, confusion, paralysis, and coma. Older adults and those with compromised immune systems are at greater risk of developing severe illness that can be fatal. It is important that people contact a health care provider if they suspect they have West Nile virus illness.

The best way to avoid illnesses spread by mosquitoes is to reduce exposure to mosquitoes and eliminate mosquito breeding sites. DHS offers these tips to protect yourself and your family against mosquito bites:

Avoid mosquito bites

- Turn over wheelbarrows, kiddie pools, buckets, and small boats such as canoes and kayaks when not in use.
- Change the water in bird baths and pet dishes at least every three days.

This September, they are going to Nashville, Tennessee, with Krazy Paint to run a charity panel jam for the new show "Triple Crown of Rodding" at the Nashville Speedway racetrack. These panel jams were started by pinstripers many years ago to "give back" to kids. LEGAL NOTICES

Notice of the Board of Review For the City of Brodhead

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIV-EN that the Board of Review for the City of Brodhead of Green and Rock County shall hold its first meeting on the 11th day of September, 2023 from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. at: City of Brodhead, 111 W. 2nd Ave., Brodhead WI 53520

Please be advised of the following requirements to appear before the Board of Review and procedural requirements if appearing before the Board:

Sec. 70.47(7) (aa), Wis. Stats., provides that the BOR may deny a hearing to a property own-er who does not allow the assessor to complete an exterior view. However, the Wisconsin Supreme Court expressed due process concerns regarding a similarly worded statute in Milewski v.Town of Dover, 2017 WI 79, 377 Wis. 2d 38, 899 N.W.2d 303. It is DOR's recommendation to allow a BOR hearing even if the property owner denied an interior or exterior view. The lack of access to view, and the credibility of evidence offered can be managed as an evidentiary issue at a BOR hearing, rather than denying access to the BOR.

Who is SBP for?

Anyone caring for someone with a form of dementia will benefit from this program.

What is SBP?

The Stress-Busting Program for Family Caregivers of People with Dementia is a proven curriculum developed by Sharon L. Lewis, RN, PhD, FAAN, in conjunction with the University of Texas Health Science Center and the WellMed Charitable Foun-

The Aging & Disability Re- dation which teaches stress management, relaxation tools, coping strategies and problem-solving skills with a support group component.

Participants view the program as a source of strength and support for their caregiving role.

'Caregivers of someone with dementia experience high levels of stress, anxiety and depression. Dealing with those issues in a healthy way is vital to a caregiver's well-being. Consequently, to care for the person with dementia, the caregiver must first learn how to care for themselves," said Karen Tennyson, dementia care specialist at the Aging and Disability Resource Center of Rock County.
